

Screening of the documentary Bully

We won a national social media contest to bring the documentary Bully to Paducah. We hosted several free screenings and also brought the movie's director Lee Hirsch to our community.

SPEAKERS

JODEE BLANCO spoke to 6000 students—every student in grades 4-12 in McCracken County Schools

KIRK SMALLEY, founder of Stand for the Silent, spoke to 2 middle schools. His 11 year old son committed suicide as a result of bullying. Their story was featured in the Bully documentary.

Heath High School shooting survivor MISSY JENKINS SMITH spoke to students at 5 middle schools.

Bully Educational Toolkits

We buy Bully Educational Toolkits for every Kentucky school who will use them.

Anti-Bully PSA

We created several PSAs, including this one with former MSU basketball player Cam Payne.

Kind Student of the Month

We recognize students for setting a positive example for kindness.

Class Visits

We welcome opportunities to spend time with students to talk about kindness and their role to create kinder and safer schools.

Community Discussions

The Market House Theatre has hosted several programs that lift up a conversation around bullying and suicide. We always are happy to participate in that dialogue and share the opportunities for students and families to join the discussion.

Positive Exposure to our State

Morgan was featured in American Girl Magazine and appeared on KET. Susan and Morgan co-wrote an opinion piece for The Huffington Post and participated in a CNN google hangout. They won the Kentucky Justice Association Consumer Safety Award. Morgan wrote an article featured on the Harvard University Graduate School of Education and won the National Jefferson Award for an Individual 25 and Under. She as also named 1 of America's Top 10 Youth Volunteers by the Prudential Spirit of Community Awards and a Hasbro Community Action Hero. She won the Governor's Volunter Service Award and as KAGE Student of the Year.

